Type and frequency of feedback

Feedback:

Verbal feedback, supp... be give...
questioning and one t...
Dialogue marking will...
units spanning around...
outline how to improve...
positive areas. This will...
paper/or via an e-learning...
Feedback where students...
Key passages will be checke...
using a code that students...
may provide individual corre...
misunderstandings. To avoi...
will have SPaG errors indica...
Dedicated improvements an...

Assessments will take place at least once every half term. Pupils will know their grades from these and be informed about how to improve for future

Homework:

Homework will vary in structure and style according to the unit of study and needs of the class. Homework will be checked and monitored as appropriate to the task. 'H' codes will be given in the student planner for homework not completed in order that parents can see if this is an issue for their child.	revisiting past learning (for example through quote learning and re-reading Literature texts) Homework will vary in structure and style according to the unit of study and needs of the class. Homework will be checked and monitored as appropriate to the task. 'H' codes will be given in the student planner for homework not completed in order that parents can see if this is an issue for their child.